

Hello! I Am Joshva

♥ About My Partner

I'm looking for a life partner who is friendly, caring, and has a positive outlook on life. Someone who enjoys simple things — family time, good food, travel, and laughter. I value a person who can balance personal and professional life, and who believes marriage is not just about responsibilities but also about enjoying the journey together. In short, I'd love to meet someone who can be my best friend, my biggest supporter, and also my partner in all the fun moments that life has to offer.
